

Coaching/Mentoring

Boosting career development via coaching or mentoring.

We support young and senior professionals to participate in scientific projects and publications.

We can give you a hand to climb up the academic, business or other professional ladders you may be targeting in your career.

Our team is often asked to coach both junior and senior staff in companies or act as joint external supervisors for postgraduate students in leading universities, such as The University of Manchester.

